

Grains Advertisement

After learning about grains, you will choose one type of grain and create an advertisement about it. You will be persuading people to eat more of that grain because of the nutritious benefits and how it fits into a healthy diet. Think about advertisements and how they show products in a new or different light to gain interest and make you want to buy that item.

Things that must be included in your advertisement:

1. Name of the grain you choose
2. Nutritional benefits of the grain you choose
3. How does the grain into a healthy diet? (My plate)
4. Picture of the grain (You can draw this, I won't be grading on artistic ability)
5. Creative slogan to gain interest
